

Business Insights

1. Electronics is the highest revenue-generating product category, making it the strongest contributor to overall sales.
2. A small number of products account for a large share of total sales, indicating that certain products are significantly more popular than others.
3. UPI is the most preferred payment method, followed by credit/debit cards, showing customers' preference for digital payments.
4. Mumbai has the highest number of customers, making it the largest customer base among all cities.
5. Most orders have been delivered successfully, while only a small percentage are pending or cancelled, indicating an efficient order fulfillment process.
6. The customer base consists of over 650 registered customers, providing a strong foundation for future marketing and customer retention strategies.
7. Recent sales are concentrated within the latest period available in the dataset, which can help the business identify current buying patterns and plan inventory accordingly.
8. A few customers have placed multiple orders, indicating a loyal customer segment that can be targeted with reward and retention programs.
9. The average order value is consistent across most transactions, suggesting stable customer purchasing behaviour and pricing strategy.

Business Insights

10. Sales activity varies over time, with certain days or periods showing higher order volumes, indicating opportunities to optimize promotions and inventory planning during peak demand.